Edward Likes Fair Americans Because They Don't Get Nervous With Him

London, Dec. 9.—"I have found in my travels that American girls are the best dancers in the world," was the admission made by the Prince of Wales at a dance given by Lady St. Helens, who divorced the late John Jacob Astor.

Edward made the confession to June Tappin, the 19-year-old dancer, in Charles Cochran's revue "London, Paris, New York," who was another guest at the dance.

DON'T GET NERVOUS.

"I danced with some of the American girls during the short visit I paid to the United States," the Prince told June Tappin, "generally speaking, they are better than English girls because they are not so abnormally nervous of me. Sometimes, however, they were more so than others, and were awfully good and they dance for all they're worth."

The Prince fort-trotted with Miss Tappin and apologized for his dancing. "I must take lessons," he said.

"You really dance very well," his young partner replied. "Can you show me?"

"Fisher," said the Prince, "I shall show you later on." He then danced again with the girl and told her a story from his Australian experiences.

PRINCE LOVES WIVES.

"When I was in Ballarat," he said, "a miner rushed up and said, 'Shake, Prince, shake.'"

"I shook hands with him, and then he said, 'Now, I'll give you a cigarette and lend me a fiver.'"

"Certainly," said the Prince, taking out his cigarette and pocket-book. "Here you are."

"The Which," he shouted, jumping with joy. "I bet ten pounds with you that I'd shake hands with you, borrow a fiver and smoke one of your fives."

"Of what the digger to collect his bet, but I'm sorry to say he didn't pay me a fiver."

CONFUSION OVER TWO APPEALS FOR STARVING

Editor American:—I am much confused over the two appeals for relief for starving children now before the committee.

One is for the relief of the starving children of the Near East, and the other is for the relief of the starving children of the Near East.

Both appeals are quite separate and are for two entirely different fields. The officials of the Near East Relief Committee, the latter, read from the starving children of Europe to the children of the Near East, and I believe that no one would doubt that the children of the Near East are the most desperate of the starving children of the world.

"All the forces of the government are against them. Their only protection is that afforded by the committee of the Near East Relief. Both causes are eminently worthy, and there is certainly money enough in the hands of American philanthropy to meet the needs of all."

WIFE OF ALLEGED SPY DISCREDITS HIS STORY

New York, Dec. 9.—While officials at Governor's Island were inclined to discredit the sensational story told by John A. Wilson, former captain in the United States Army, who is charged with desertion, Mrs. Wilson, his wife, who visited him, said she did not believe her husband's story that he was one of 360 German agents who came to America in 1914 to join the United States defense forces.

"I have always found my husband, from the time he was a boy, a faithful and truthful," she said. "He never deceived me, and I am sure that he is not a spy."

WOMAN ROBBED BY BANDITS

Pair Escape in Waiting Auto After Daring Holdup on Shirley Street, Winthrop

Two men attacked Mrs. Leodore Swartz, who with her husband, operates a chain of army goods stores in Boston, as she was walking to her home on Shirley street, Winthrop, after leaving from a Boston, where she had been shopping.

One man snatched the pocketbook which she was carrying, containing $25 in money, jumped into an automobile and fled from the scene with the woman.

The holdup was designed to obtain a large sum of money from the Boston stores' business, but, according to the police, the thieves mistook Mrs. Swartz for her daughter. The latter generally carries home the proceeds of the daily business in a Hanover street store.

Mrs. Swartz was walking in Shirley street when she noticed an auto with drawn curtains pulled up at the sidewalk opposite the Dream Theatre. A special policeman, Nels H. Nelson, heard her scream, but reached the scene too late to encounter her attackers.

New York, Dec. 9.—Six of the largest firms in the clothing business have announced that they will lock out 18,300 garment workers, in order to force them to accept a new wage scale.

The manufacturers have decided to institute the open shop and to refuse to employ any workers who do not accept their new wage scale. This move is expected to result in a bitter fight between the workers and the employers.

HUNTERS GLAD AT SNOWFALL

Reports Indicate Record Season for Deer—First Casualty at North Adams

With a light fall of snow over most of the hunting districts of the State, deer hunters today greeted themselves for a fresh effort to make the best of the season. The snow has been good for hunting, but snow was needed to enable the hunters to track their quarry in the woods.

The first hunting casualty of the open deer season was reported from North Adams, where Adam Chas. Shaw, a boy of fifteen, was shot by a bullet from his own gun, which he had fired over a cliff. When wounded the boy tumbled after the gun and was saved from immediate death in the west shaft of the Hoosac tunnel by Joseph Jones, who happened to be passing. Chas. Shaw cannot recover.

MANY DEER KILLED.

Reports of the thousands to the State game warden so far this season indicate that the number of deer killed this year will far exceed that of any previous season for at least seven years.

The Springfield district reports the largest number of successful hunters. More than 100 deer were reported killed in the four western counties of the State.

Four bucks were killed in Hampton, two in Ludlow. James Porter of Springfield was the lucky man, with a 250-pound buck to his credit. For the first the deer ran in the neighborhood of 150 pounds.

LITTLE LUCK AT ATHOL.

Athol hunters report little slacking for their deer and little luck in making their bags. Three deer were shot near the Butterworth farm, not far from Athol.

Westfield hunters were more successful, for they reported eight deer in the first three days of the open season. C. M. Ripley, chairman of the Bradford selectmen, was the high man with a 200-pound buck.

In the district around Ware, the hunters so far have shot fifteen deer. R. E. Hager, hunter near Belchertown, took the prize in that district with a 300-pound buck, shot running.

30-Cent Lunches Aid B. U. Doll Fund

Quiet of happy B. U. students who find 30-cent lunches not only money savers but particularly appetizing. Left to right, Ruth Davis, Lucy Morgan, Helen Quigley, Seulah Hassam and Gladys E. Reid.

Imagine paying only thirty cents for lunch and helping social service work along at the same time. Sounds unreasonable, but that's just what students at the Boston University College of Liberal Arts are doing. The college chapter of the Intercollegiate Community Service Association and the Y. M. C. A. are serving these eatable C. L. box lunches and using the proceeds for their funds to help carry on the work of their organizations.

Here is a sample of these hot lunches: One tongue sandwich, one ham sandwich, rest with jelly, potato salad, piece of pie, and two cheese wafers. This same meal would cost the students anywhere from sixty to seventy-five cents in nearby restaurants, which only goes to show that not all the restaurant profiteers are

Here Are 10 'Musts' for Your Xmas Mail

Have you memorized your "Xmas Mail Musts"? Better get busy. There are ten of them. They are:

"Mail your Christmas packages early."

"If you care a rap, wrap them carefully."

"Write addresses as they and be read promptly."

"Remember early delivery depends on you even more than it does on the mail clerks and letter carriers."

"Remember it is a matter of team work and that you are part of the team."

"Be in mind that Uncle Sam's postal employees are just as human as you are and just as eager to cheer."

"Give them a chance to see their folks on Christmas Day at least long enough to get a nibble of turkey and mince pie."

"Don't destroy the spirit of the gift by having it arrive late."

"Don't be slow or selfish."

As one of the mail truck drivers remarked today: "A Christmas present that comes after Christmas, ain't no Christmas present."

So mail early and often.

Postmaster Edmund M. Baker and his force are prepared to do their share. It is now up to the public to make the Christmas mail delivery of 1920 a success.

CLOSING OF MAIL.

Post the dates where you can see them because they give you the dead line for Christmas mail from Boston to the points named:

Dec. 10—Albany, Washington, Oregon and Pacific Coast States, Dec. 13—Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and Rocky Mountain States.

Dec. 15—The Dakotas, Minnesota, Illinois, Mississippi, Florida, Middle West and Southern States.

Dec. 18—New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia.

Dec. 20—Points in New England.

Christmas gifts in the form of money orders for points in Europe should have been mailed at noon December 1 as possible.

Postoffice employees heartily endorse the "Do Your Christmas Shopping Early" campaign because they feel that it promotes early mailing. The Boston postoffice authorities are making extensive preparations to handle the deluge of Christmas mail this year. Postmaster Baker, Assistant Postmaster Bailey and their staff of mail carriers and other postal officials have worked out every detail.

ENLARGED STAFF.

The regular working staff will be enlarged by 100 clerks and from 400 to 500 carriers and 150 extra automobile trucks will be hired. Many extra wagons will also be pressed into use.

The staffs will be enlarged at sub-stations also. Nine new stamp windows will be opened in the Mill street corridor of the central postoffice. More windows will also be used for handling parcel post. Red Cross booths are already set up in the corridors for the sale of special stamps to aid tubercular sufferers.

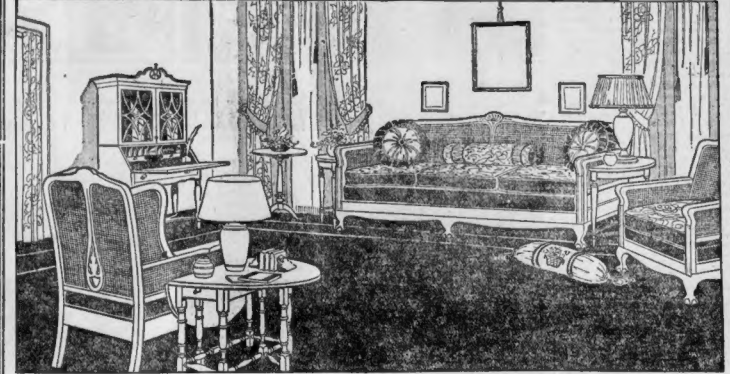

In order to relieve congestion and facilitate matters the basement of the central postoffice will be used for the handling of mail. The recent opening of the Back Bay office affords an additional floor space of 20,000 square feet, which will expedite mail handling at that station. Mail your Xmas gifts early. Play the game with the postal employees. They're ready and eager to do their share.

The Patron Saint of Gifts

Popular fancy visualizes him as short, fat, and jolly. His costume must always be red, trimmed with fur as white as his whiskers. He may be up-to-date enough to travel in an airship, but we prefer to think of his flying reindeer, whose collars are covered with many merry bells tinkling with Christmas joy.

His pack is loaded with many gifts. His heart is big, his memory excellent, and his imagination active; therefore he selects unerringly the particular thing which will please best the person for whom it is chosen. In addition, every package is wrapped with love and tied with Christmas cheer.

This legendary picture of the patron saint of gifts is ever dear to us all. What some of us do not realize, perhaps, is that this myth is an actuality within every one's grasp. Because it is the spirit behind the vision which is really what we all cherish.

All that each one of us need do to bring the spirit of Christmas within our own circle is to choose our gifts with care, wrap them up carefully, and see that they reach their destinations by Christmas Day.

GUMMEN, S. OOT AT GROCER

Dorchester Storekeeper Robbed of $40 After Dodging Bandit's Bullet

Morris Yankelits, owner of a grocery store at No. 69 Florida street, Dorchester, was held up and robbed of $40 by two gunmen, after they had fired a shot at him when he did not move fast enough for them. The two men entered the store, and after ordering a package of cigarettes drew their guns while the back of the proprietor was turned.

Yankelits became hysterical after the men left the store, and by the time the police arrived he could not furnish them with a very good description of the pair. From information picked up by officers investigating the case the men were dressed similar to the pair that had up and robbed several other stores in the vicinity during the last week.

SNAIL FARMERS TO SOLVE PROBLEM

Urged in 3 Bills as Check to Menace of Increasing Exodus From Country

By Universal Service. Washington, Dec. 8.—Unless life on farms is made more attractive, the exodus situation with regard to production of food will soon confront the country, according to the report of John Barton Payson, secretary of the Interior, made public today.

During the year ended June 30, the secretary pointed out, the number of vacant farmhouses in Ohio alone increased from 18,000 to 20,000, or $1 per cent. Other States, he says, present similar conditions.

"On this he is rounded by the ownership of small farms and the formation of neighborhood associations. Small farms, bringing people nearer to the soil, and increasing cultivation of these farms, may be the answer."

"The importance of this subject can be realized when it is stated that three measures are now before Congress authorizing the department to all persons desiring to procure farms. All embody the community settlement idea. One known as the National Farm Loan Act, appropriates $100,000,000 for the purpose.

"The third bill will entitle the services of the department in the reclamation of land for community settlements. The reclamation service is available for the use of the department.

"The great national parks are in danger of destruction, according to the report, which pleads for a fixed national policy forever preserving these resources from the demands of commerce.

BARBLED CHILDREN FROM LAND

Marblehead Woman Threatens to Take Old Trespass Controversy to Court

Marblehead, Dec. 8.—Not in years has there been such a stir in this quiet old town as the present future caused by school children and trespassing over a strip of land in the rear of the high school, owned by Miss Annie James.

Dr. Samuel C. Rivett, chairman of the school committee, said today that a sub-committee of the school board has been appointed to confer with Miss James in an effort to settle the matter.

WILL GO THE "LIMIT."
Judge Alden P. White of Salem, attorney for Miss James, said today that he and Guy C. Richards, another counsel of Miss James, plan to "go the limit," if necessary, to keep trespassers off the property. He said that a special policeman would be posted to prevent "jay walking."

"It is also possible," he said, "that we may bring suit against the town to have her property rights safeguarded."

Miss James said that though she has made repeated efforts to keep trespassers off her property, she has not been successful. Two years ago, she said, she had a fence erected and it was torn down. Another fence just put up was torn down during the night and dumped into a swamp nearby.

Edward was stationed on the property to take the names of school children who trespassed, but she said so many of them used her land that it was useless to do that.

The land is one of several cow leases into which the town was divided in colonial times and is so situated as to obstruct passage to the rear of the school from Vine street. It is almost a necessity to pass over the land to get fuel to the school. The only alternative is to carry the fuel over the grounds in front of the building and that would be up several flights of steps.

IS WILLING TO SELL.
The school committee sought to buy the land, but the war prevented it. In lieu of an article of the town warrant at that time, Miss James gave permission for transportation of coal across the property during the war, but now she declares it must be stopped. She said she would gladly sell the property "at a reasonable figure."

Chairman Rivett said that Miss James wants the town to buy her property on high school hill, comprising several acres. He said above what the committee thinks it is worth. He said the proper thing would be for her to sell much of her land to continue Vine street "at a reasonable figure."

SUPPRESS CITY HALL 'VICE DEN'

Publicity Clears Bootleggers and Dope Peddlers From Annex Corridors

"Publicity" cleared City Hall annex in a day of the drug and booze peddlers who have hitherto been unmolested in their illicit trafficking. Mayor Peters admitted today the result of the widespread publication given in reports of their activities because of the publicity given by the plain clothes men from police headquarters in still going on, however.

The drug and booze peddlers ran to cover on the news of the exposure and the ground floor corridors were found places compared with their former condition when, under the cover of the night, they had been found freely and drugs passed on stairways leading to the basement and upper floors. Even the politicians are shunning the place, and the pandemonium and those seeking a warm place away from the cold found other haunts on hearing that extra police were on hand to keep the corridors clear.

Mayor Peters will take up today the policing of this section to prevent the bootleggers and dispensers of dope from gaining a foothold there again.

Is Marriage a Success?

By the Marriage Editor: To the Marriage Editor: "Down to Gehenna or up to the Throne. He travels the fastest who travels alone."

Kipling was right. The only trouble was that he did not say enough. He not only travels the fastest who travels alone, but he travels alone—and this is a period of safety first. Nowadays the wayfarer on life's highway faces too many obstacles to be encumbered with excess baggage. Women are all very well in their way, fair to look upon and pleasant companions when one has the leisure and the desire for their companionship.

But when the road runs through the wind rises high, the woman weakens. The fault is not hers, invariably, she weakens because she has been built weaker, because she lacks the strength of body and mind to cope with the big elemental forces. The suffrage law will prove the greatest test of womanhood. I have been a consistent supporter of it because I have felt always as I feel now, that it will teach women independence, not only in politics but in every field of endeavor in which she now possesses a precarious foothold by the permission of man.

But marriage is a century will develop a race of women who will prove a equal—and a century is not long to wait for so great a boon. Man is supreme, not because he wills to be, but because responsibility is automatically flow to him who knows how, and man has shown that he knows how. The law of the survival of the fittest applies here as elsewhere in the world. Marriage is a success if a man has time to devote to a woman as he wills to devote to his better advantage. It might be to his better advantage, but when marriage is a success everything else is usually a failure. To the Marriage Editor: "Down to Gehenna or up to the Throne. He travels the fastest who travels alone."

WOMAN ROUTS SAFE ROBBERS

Bandits Flee as Kerosene Lamp Explodes in Their Midst

By Universal Service.
Atlantic City, Dec. 8.—Robbers who broke into the postoffice at Fort Belvoir, a rural community twenty miles from here, got a warm reception.

Awakened by crashing glass as a window caved in, Mrs. Amanda Blake, postmistress, in her apartment above the office slipped quietly out of bed, lit an oil lamp and suddenly dashed down a flight of stairs to a landing overlooking the safe.

Three masked men were about the safe preparing to apply the "saw." "Get out of here!" shouted Mrs. Blake, and as they turned toward her she barred the door among them.

The explosion that followed scattered blazing oil over the intruders, and they "hit out" with yell of pain.

The pallid postmistress then constituted herself a bucket brigade, and calmly put out the blaze in the office. When the townsfolk arrived she set them on the trail of the badly scorched bandits, but they eluded capture in an automobile.

Hoppe ran 239 in his fifth inning and ended the game in the tenth.

The champion gave the best exhibition of the series. His play of 239 was marked by perfect play. The run was ended when the champion missed a difficult double-cushion reverse bank. Schaefer had few chances.

Charge of Hurling Bottle at

During the parade of the American Legion on Sunday, October 11, Monahan, the fourth in memory of Corporal Gordon S. Denton of Battery C, 11th Field Artillery, it is alleged that a bottle was hurled from the windows of the Tammany Club, at Hampden and Dudley street, striking the United States flag carried by the post.

Service men filed a complaint to the Roxbury court and as a result of the investigation which followed Monahan was arrested. He denies knowing anything about the incident.

ROPER MEETS GREB IN MECHANICS RING

Harry Greb of Pittsburgh, one of the best light heavyweights, is coming here to battle Captain Bob Roper. The bout will be staged by the Foxcroft A. C. in the Mechanics Building, Tuesday, December 21.

Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this just about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely destroy and remove every single sign and trace of it, so matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be shiny, lustrous, healthy, silky and soft, and will feel a hundred times better.—Advertisement.

Let Golden Butter Melt Down Thro' It

TAKE a bowl of rice—cooked so that each flake stands alone, plump and tender. Then put a square of golden butter on top, and let it melt its way down through. It's a delicious dish all by itself, or with fish, meat, or poultry.

Eat rice with gravy over it. Eat it with sugar and cream for breakfast. Eat it as you do potatoes for dinner and supper. You will enjoy rice every day. There are over three hundred ways to prepare it.

In the markets of the world, American rice leads in quality. It is the finest rice grown. Just think—one cupful makes enough for a family of five. Rice is the most economical food you can buy. Leftover rice can be made into dozens of tasty dishes. Rice delights the taste, satisfies the appetite, and saves you money. No other food does as much.

But rice does more. It promotes health. It sustains your strength. It builds bone and muscle. Rice digests in one hour where all other foods take from one hour and forty-five minutes to four hours.

ASSOCIATED RICE MILLERS OF AMERICA, Inc., New Orleans, La.

This is the Master Recipe

This famous recipe of the south is so simple that anyone, by following it, can successfully cook rice centuries ago, the first time they try.

Wash rice thoroughly in a strainer. Use a deep porcelain or enameled ware kettle. To four cups of boiling water add one cup of rice. Boil steadily until water continues to boil. Lift rice occasionally with fork, and shake kettle so that no kernels stick to bottom. Spoon off the liquid—except the rice. Boil twenty minutes. Then pour water off, if any, and place in open oven where it will finish cooking without burning. Each grain will stand alone, plump, tender and delicious.

Consult any standard cook book for a number of excellent recipes for rice. Here are a few others.

PURÉE OF RICE

Simmer for three hours one pound of lean beef and a half pound of soup bones in salted water. Strain through a colander and return the juice to a saucepan with the meat, adding one-half pound of vegetables chopped fine, stirring occasionally to prevent burning, and season to the taste, boil one minute, season and serve. Add vegetable in season can be used.

STUFFED STEAK

One pound round steak, 3 cups boiled rice, salt, 2 tablespoonsful chopped parsley, 2 tablespoonsful onion juice, paprika. Blend rice with the onion juice. Spread the steak with a layer of the rice cooking about 5% of an inch thick. Roll and tie in shape or fasten with shavers. Put in a covered pan with enough water to keep from burning and cook in the oven for 30 minutes. Take off the cover and brown before removing from the oven. Thicken the stock left in the pan for gravy.

FRESH FISH WITH RICE

Cut fish into pieces three or four inches long. Drop few tablespoonsful of lard into a frying pan, and when hot add onion and let brown. Add salt and pepper over fish, and when done, turn out on a platter. Boil rice into cakes. Cut up a piece of the fish and pour sauce from the pan, after adding three tablespoonsful of onion and green to it.

WILSON BOWS TO LEAGUE VERDICT

First Official Concession of Defeat in Declaration to Send Delegate

Washington, Dec. 8.—In declining to send an American delegate to the League of Nations conference for the reduction of world armaments, President Wilson for the first time bowed officially to the decision of Congress not to join the League.

"The government of the United States is most sympathetic with any attempt to achieve a constructive plan for disarmament which is necessary for the economic rehabilitation and stability of the world," said Acting Secretary of State, Lusk, in a cablegram to the League of Nations president, Woodrow Wilson, on Dec. 8.

The President of the United States of America.

Bill Would Repeal Sprinkler Law

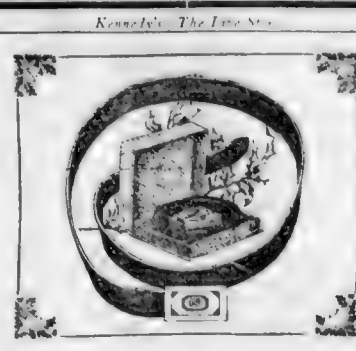

Following the automatic expiration of the law which threatened the life of any truck that was not equipped with a fire extinguisher, the Legislature has submitted to the Legislature a bill to repeal the sprinkler law. The bill was offered for the first time in the Legislature on Dec. 8.

A group interested in this question, and a most important one of importance to the law, but as the government of the United States is a member of the League of Nations, it is necessary to take steps to secure the cooperation of the League in the reduction of world armaments, and the government of the United States is most sympathetic with any attempt to achieve a constructive plan for disarmament which is necessary for the economic rehabilitation and stability of the world.

The Good Men Stand Out.
John L. Sullivan's heyday, beginning when he beat Ryan

1984, down to the present, covers a period of thirty-eight years in pugilistic history.

In the case of thousands of men have been born. It would seem that out of this great mass of humanity many would come of pugilistic skill and intelligence equal to Sullivan.

Yet in all that stretch of years we find that not to exceed half a dozen men have arisen who, on the basis of performance, are classed with Sullivan, or above him.

We are conducting a sort of symposium to ascertain the popular idea of the twenty best heavyweight fighters that ever lived, or at least that lived in the memory of men now alive. It would scarcely be possible to go back beyond Sullivan's day to the days of the great champions of antiquity. There may have been better fighters than Sullivan before the great John L. was born, but few people are living who saw them.

In all the lists submitted it is found that about half a dozen names are invariably at the top—Sullivan, Jack Dempsey, John Johnson, James J. Fisk, and Joe Louis.

If you called for lists of the greatest generals, or the greatest actors, the result would be the same. About half a dozen names would necessarily be in the first flight on every list.

The good men always stand out. You cannot go behind the good men of achievement, which always speaks for itself. You may not like a man's style of doing things, as, for instance, you may not have liked James J. Jeffries' plodding, bulldog system, but in the final analysis you have to put Jeffries' name close up front because he did things.

It's about those twenty best heavyweights.

Mail That Photo to the Loveliest Girl Editor While the List Is Open

GRACE MUSE, Boston

MARION MORAHAN, Brighton

LORRAINE CHIACHIA, Roxbury

OLGA C. GROVER, Boston

MRS. HOPE L. RURYON, Providence

THE BOSTON AMERICAN offers $5,000 in gold for photographs of lovely girls. To the girl declared by the judges to be the loveliest girl in New England, the American will pay $5,000 in gold. To the next girl in merit, $1,000 in gold. There will be two third prizes of $500 each. In awarding the prizes the judges will have in mind Arthur Brisbane's definition of beauty. Mr. Brisbane says beauty is "intelligence in a fine setting."

The judges will study the photographs, first for intelligence, second for health, and third for physical beauty. There are no strings attached. Just send in the photograph of your wife, sweetheart, sister or friend. All photographs will be given careful treatment and will be returned when the contest is over. Address all mail to "Loveliest Girl Editor," Boston American, P. O. Box 529, Boston 6, Mass.

A LOVE SET—These buxom brown beauties of South Africa have become expert at baiting the merry tennis ball. The photographer told them they would have to put on more clothes for their photo and they appeared with more hat on than anything else. Note the anklet bracelets. (World Wide.)

CUT OFF HAIR TO AID DESTITUTE WOMAN—Four "brothers" of Raymond Hitchcock's chorus of "forty under twenty" made this great sacrifice to aid Mrs. Faust, mother of the once famous Lottie Faust, who was in desperate straits. They auctioned off their tresses and presented $302.84 to Mrs. Faust. Left to right: Dorothy Leeds, Marjorie Leeds, Mrs. Faust, Anastasia Reilly, Fay West. (N. Y. H. N.)

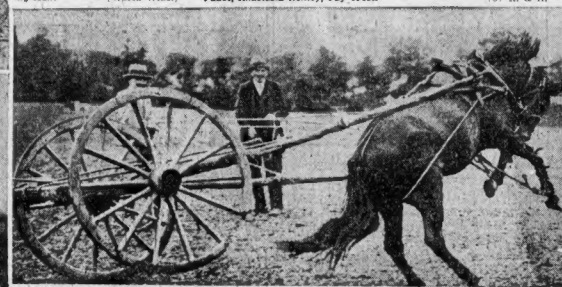

MERRY CHRISTMAS!—Miss Alma Simpson opened a package of mail the other morning in her room at the Pennsylvania Hotel, New York, and out popped an alligator. The baby reptile was the Christmas gift of the Governor of British Guiana, South America. Miss Simpson recovered enough after a couple of hours to pose bravely for the photograph. (Central News.)

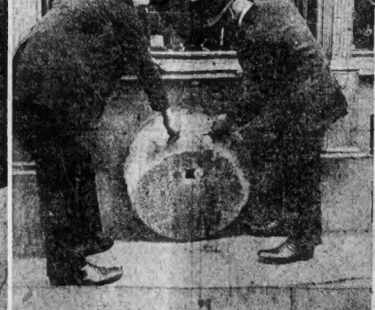

A CINCINNATI BREAKFAST—A woman complained of pains in her stomach. The doctors of Cincinnati were puzzled until an X-ray revealed two pieces of bread eaten red and a portion of a pocket comb. The article was removed and the pains ceased. The rule shows the site of the lunch. (N. Y. H. N.)

LOOKA HERE! LOOKA HERE!—We wish to introduce to you Miss Joan Sawyer, dancer. Just returned to U. S. A. We are printing her photo because it is the only steamship picture we've ever seen which has not shown a couple of feet of stocking. (N. Y. H. N.)

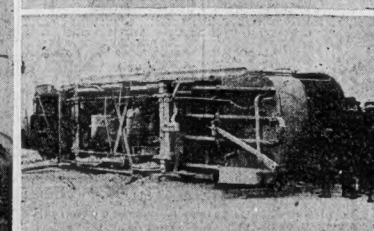

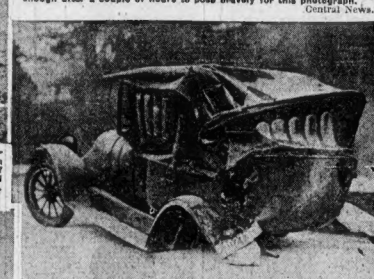

HOLD HER, ALF!—British farmers are importing American bronchos to take the places of horses killed in the war. This bird may be broken if the cart holds out. (World Wide.)

HERE'S AN IDEA—A storekeeper with an inventive mind had a sharpening stone built into the front of his shop so that passerby could sharpen their knives. The stunt proved quite a novelty and not only the men but the women folk have formed the habit of sharpening their kitchen utensils there. The window display is at hand. (World Wide.)

FLIES AT 57—Mrs. Zella Longley, direct descendant of Lafayette, had her first airplane flight the other day. She said the pilot she enjoyed the trip highly. She wants to go again. (N. Y. H. N.)

ZOWIE! BANG!—Auto upsets trolley. Six persons were injured, none seriously, when a light touring car struck a trolley car in Cincinnati the other day. The trolley left the track and turned over, while the auto merely parted company with its rear wheels. The woman driving the auto was not injured. No, because, she is not the lady who breakfasts on certain foods. (N. Y. H. N.)
